

International Network of Health Promotion Foundations Progressing promotion and prevention agendas

A joint panel session with ThaiHealth, Health Promotion Switzerland and VicHealth

The panel will present an overview of the role, history and activities of the International Network of Health Promotion Foundations which was established in 1999. The foundations represented on the panel will provide an overview of their individual organisations' work in the context of health promotion in Thailand, Switzerland and Australia.